A Money Losing Sale on Cloaks

Our entire stock of Cloaks must be sold. Now is the time to make your selections. A money losing sale prior to inventory. The greatest sacrifice we ever made. Every article we quote is a positive loss. It will pay you to see them at once, whether you wish to purchase or not.
We are losing money on

100 REMNANTS OF DRESS GOODS.

Losing money on Jeans, Cassimeres and Tweeds. We have an unusual large quantity of the goods we advertise. We have sold the goods continually at the prices we say they are worth, and at the prices we now quote we lose money. The like have never been known.
The line of Dress Goods we quote at 75c is far better than any other cashmere ever offered. The black satin rhadams we offer at 75c cannot be matched under from less than 1.25, and the black gros grain silk at 95c has been our bargain at 1.25. This will give you a small idea as to the good cut we are now making during our Great Money Losing Sale.

According to the estimates of the government experts the farmers of the United States raised last year two billion bushels of corn, 629,000,000 bushels of oats, and 357,000,000 bushels of wheat; quite a liberal supply of food for both man and beast. The market value of the three crops is put at one billion dollars. A nation that can take this sum of money yearly from the soil is in no particular danger of famine or bankruptcy, and can stand a good deal of crude anti-communistic and financial economic subjects. This year's crop of cereals is said to be the largest on record, in point of volume, and if equally distributed would give each inhabitant a ration of fifty-three bushels, or a bushel a week—quite enough to keep the wolf from the door; that is, if the wolves were properly distributed.

AMUSEMENTS.

DRAMA.—Jacques Kruger and his company played to a slim house last evening. They deserved better, but the bad streets, the threats of more rain, and the steady line of amusements preceding were all against them. Kruger is really immense. He has that rarest characteristic in comedians of knowing where to draw the line—he does not overdo his part. The play which he produces is of an original turn, and it is spontaneous, happy and innocent.

C. B. BISHOP.—In our amusement columns to-day appears the advertisement of the cheerful comedian, C. B. Bishop, who will appear at the Opera House January 18th, 19th, 20th, and Wednesday matinee. ALEX JOSLIN COMEDY COMPANY.—With a fine uniformed band and admirable operatic solo orchestra, will appear at the Opera House on Friday and Saturday, January 15th and 16th, and Saturday matinee. Reserved seats now on sale.

Fire in Vernon District.

Last Sunday morning, between 2 and 3 o'clock, a small grocery store and Chinese laundry, at the corner of Jefferson and Alameda streets, were burned to the ground. The origin of the fire is unknown. The building was owned by one Peris, a Basque, and was partially insured. The store was run by an Italian, known as Italian Joe. He was asleep when the fire occurred, and was quite badly burned before he could get out. All the groceries, including a lot of liquors, were destroyed. The contents of the laundry were also burned. The total loss is estimated at about $1000.

COLD.

Thirty Degrees Below Zero in New York State.

FOUR INCHES OF SNOW IN TEXAS.

And Frigidity All Along the Line. But It is Thought That the Hyperborean Wave is Receding.

Associated Press Dispatches to The Times.

COUNCIL BLUFFS, Ia., Jan. 12.—Thos. Delisle is a farmer residing ten miles south of this city. Saturday his son Louis came to town with a team of mules to do some trading. In the evening he started home. When some distance from here his team took fright and ran away, throwing Delisle out. He got up, gave chase, and caught the team in a snow drift three miles from the city. He extricated them, and, while hitching up, they started again, throwing him down, one wheel passing over his breast. He again gave chase, but he soon fell exhausted from his injuries. The team finally reached home. Mr. Delisle and party hastened in search of his son. The search continued all night. Saturday Louis was discovered near Willow Slough bridge, both hands holding to a barb-wire fence, and his arms frozen stiff. He was in a kneeling position, with both legs frozen. He could not move. The thermometer was twenty-five degrees below zero. He had dragged himself a mile. He was carried home and died last night.

Cold on All Sides.

BOSTON, Jan. 12.—From all parts of New England come reports of very cold weather. At Merotown, Vermont, it is 40 degrees below zero.

HIGH JINKS.

The Ohio Legislature Organized in a Tumultuous Way.

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 12.—The Committee on Privileges and Elections of the House of Representatives this morning reported a resolution to unseat a Democratic member from Hamilton county. The resolution was amended to provide for a hearing to be accorded the unseated member, and the resolution was adopted under the previous question. The seat was then declared vacant amid the greatest confusion and in the midst of a howling mob. Nine Republican members came forward and were sworn in by the Speaker. They were cheered by Republicans and jeered by Democrats. The Speaker ordered the Democratic members to turn over the keys to their desks. In the action of to-day I see no assurance for the election of Sherman, and will give him twenty-one majority on joint ballot in convention of the two branches to-morrow.

MAJOR DAVIS HEARD FROM.

Not Reassured, but Prosecuting a Vigorous Campaign.

EL PASO, Tex., Jan. 12. News has just been received concerning the movements of Major Davis and his command of one troop of cavalry and eighty-five Indian scouts, who moved into the heart of the Sierra Madre mountains in Mexico over a month ago. Nothing was learned of their movements, and fears were entertained that they had been massacred by the hostiles. It is now learned that the force has safely reached Lesas Grandes without having encountered the Apaches. From the point named a message was sent to Colonel Torres, commanding the Mexican forces stationed at El Valle, with whom a co-operative plan of action was agreed upon. A vigorous campaign is now being prosecuted by the joint forces against Apaches.

Germany and Samoa.

LONDON, Jan. 12.—The Standard's correspondent at Berlin says; Admiral Krom, commanding the German men-of-war Bismarck, Genetsnan and Olga, has been ordered to Samoa to settle the differences between the German government and King Maletro. When amicable relations shall have been arranged the German flag, which was hoisted over Samoa, will be hauled down. Germany has no intention to violate the neutrality agreement with England and America.

Parliament Opened.

LONDON, Jan. 12.—Parliament opened to-day. Large crowds congregated in the vicinity of Parliament House long before the beginning of the session. When Brallaugh and Gladstone arrived they were loudly cheered. The vaults of the House of Parliament were thoroughly searched this morning, but no indications of the "Guy Fawkes" plot were discovered. Right Hon. Arthur Wellesly was re-elected Speaker of the House of Commons without opposition.

Stricken With Paralysis.

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 12.—A dispatch from Jacksonville, Mississippi, announces the death at 11:30 o'clock last night, of Colonel E. D. Richardson, of the firm of Richardson and Myer, of this city, president of the late World's Exposition, and one of the largest cotton planters in the world. Colonel Richardson was stricken with paralysis while walking on the street and died before aid could reach him.

The Queen Will Be Guarded.

LONDON, Jan. 12.—The Daily News says: "The Queen's speech in opening Parliament will refer in a guarded manner to Irish local government. Mr. Gladstone will not move an amendment to the address in reply to the speech."

A Big Chicago Fire.

CHICAGO, Jan. 12.—The flour warehouse of Frederick Vehmeyer, on Kenzee street, took fire this morning and was almost entirely consumed, with contents. The loss will reach $250,000.

General of the Jesuits.

LONDON, Jan. 12.—Father Beek, General of the Jesuits, is reported dying.

SAN FRANCISCO.

Judge Dwinelle Dead—Pearsons's Son—Examiner Pennypacker.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 11.—H. H Pearson, who was reported yesterday in a dispatch from Salt Lake as having shot and killed Forrest Green at Nephi, is a son of H. H. Pearson, manager of the Baldwin Hotel in this city. The latter received a telegram from a younger son who is at Nephi, which states that the shooting was accidental. H. H. Pearson leaves here for the scene of the killing this afternoon.

TO INVESTIGATE THE SURVEY.

Colonel John D. Pennypacker, of Virginia, Examiner of United States Surveys, with his assistant, J. F. Landeres, has arrived from the East and is awaiting orders from Commissioner Sparks. Colonel Pennypacker has recently been engaged in investigating some of the irregularities of the Land Department in New Mexico, and for his efficiency in that field has been sent to perform a similar office in California, as it has been alleged there have been extensive frauds perpetrated in United States surveys on this coast.

NO DAMAGE, BUT A BENEFIT.

The Chronicle this morning prints a series of dispatches from all parts of the State with reference to the effect upon the coming grain and fruit crops of the cold weather which has been prevailing for some time. Without exception, these dispatches state that the frost, instead of proving injurious, as was feared, will prove most beneficial.

RAIN.

Rain began falling lightly here about 6 o'clock this evening, and has continued ever since, with indications of increased precipitation during the night. It also rained at Napa, Merced, San Bernardine, Colusa, Chico and Santa Rosa.

JUDGE DWINELLE DEAD.

Judge S. H. Dwinelle died suddenly at his residence, of apoplexy, at 11 a. m. to-day.

THE SLEEPING BEAUTY.

She Wakes Up on the Sixty-Seventh Day of Her Nap.

COLUMBUS, Neb., Jan. 12.—The news has just reached here from the Dishner farm, some distance northeast, that Minnie Dishner, Nebraska's sleeping beauty, recovered consciousness on January 3rd, the sixty-seventh day of her trance-sleep. The roads have been impassable until the present time, and news of her recovery could not be received before. Miss Dishner fell into the trance from which she has now recovered, on October 6th last. During this long interval she has lain, to all appearances, a lifeless being with the exception of respiration and heart action. When Miss Dishner awoke, her mind was apparently clear and unimpaired, her appetite and general feelings good. But her limbs, which had become badly wrecked, the other engines not leaving the rails. Lucas Stonson, who was engineer of the head engine, was found dressed in her usual party dress, frozen to death, though his fireman miraculously escaped with only a few bruises.

The "Cold Snap" Abating.

CHICAGO, Jan. 12.—Reports received by the Signal Service state that the cold weather is moderating rapidly. Fargo reported an above zero report. St. Paul five degrees below. The temperature is six degrees below in this city, at 8 o'clock this morning, with no wind to speak of. Railway trains are beginning to arrive more promptly.

Thirty Below Zero in New York.

NEW YORK, Jan. 12.—Reports from the interior of the State show that last night was the coldest of the season, the thermometer indicating from twenty-five to thirty degrees below zero.

Four Inches of Snow in Texas.

NEW YORK, Jan. 12.—Telegraphic advices received to-day state that a heavy storm prevails at Galveston, Tex. Four inches of snow has already fallen, and it is still snowing hard.

Cold on All Sides.

BOSTON, Jan. 12.—From all parts of New England come reports of very cold weather. At Merotown, Vermont, it is 40 degrees below zero.

CONGRESSIONAL.

Silver Still On the Boards in the Senate,

AND THE HOUSE SPOILING FOR IT.

Pugh Continues His Argument for Silver, and is Followed by Vance in the Same Vein.

Associated Press Dispatches to The Times.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—The President pro tem. asked permission of the Senate to be absent after to-morrow for the remainder of the week, and that Senator Hawley be substituted as presiding officer during that time. Unanimous consent was given.

Mr. Logan, from the Committee on Military Affairs, reported favorably a bill providing for the purchase of the old Produce Exchange as a site in New York City for army purposes. The bill appropriates $450,000, or so much as may be necessary for the purchase of the site and necessary alterations in the remodeling of the building. The bill, on Mr. Logan's motion, was read the third time and passed.

Mr. Pugh resumed his remarks on the Bock silver resolution. The London press, he said, had joined the money kings of our Eastern States in demanding of Congress a suspension of silver coinage. They want to sweep away every kind of money but gold. Then, indeed, we should have no God but gold, and no kings but the National Banks. Silver, Mr. Pugh insisted, had not been treated fairly, either by our public officers or banks, but had held up well in spite of them. Whenever silver gets the same treatment as gold, under the national laws of supply and demand, if then it should not hold its own, Mr. Pugh would deem the controversy settled. But he had no doubt that silver would come out all right in any case. Mr. Pugh expressed a willingness to support any change in the existing law that would withdraw any paper currency under $10, or even $20, so as to give the entire field for the use of small bills, or small change, to silver and silver certificates. He advocated the passage of a bill heretofore introduced by Mr. George, which Mr. Pugh said would give the national banks a better opportunity of becoming acquainted with silver.

Mr. Vance followed. He said the present attempt of the moneyed men to depreciate silver was one of the grandest conspiracies ever seen. It was infernal and cruel blow directed at the common people of all lands. The banner of the attacking party should bear in plain letters the words of holy writ: "To him that hath shall be given, and from him that hath not shall be taken away even that which he seemeth to have." After considering the question of the whole amount of money in use in the world, Mr. Vance went on to show that growing commerce and increasing population required increased money facilities. The increase of our population, he said, was 3 per cent. per annum, and our manufactures 2½ per cent. The mines of the world were yielding only 1¼ per cent. Increase of the present money supply. Yet we were told that we must obliterate fifty-four per cent. of the money supply, that being the ratio of silver in the world's stock of coin. The success of efforts against silver would result in the greatest industrial calamities. Every species of property would shrink, the only exceptions to that result being gold and debts, which would be increased to an extent which property would have shrunk. Every public creditor, Vance said, took our silver dollar gladly, except only the class that distinctly and solemnly agreed in writing to take it. But we were told that silver had gone down. This was not so much true as that gold had gone up. Vance read from the late financial reports of Havana markets to show that American silver dollars were at a premium over the silver coins of England and France. In the course of all his economic reading he said, from Moses to Sunset Cox, he had never met a case so weak as that made now by the enemies of silver. He had heard many cases argued in school-boy clubs and in crossroads debating societies; he had heard cases made from the tall of gingerbread darts and had read endless platitudes in the Congressional Record, but he had never met or seen a worse abuse of logic or a feebler attempt to outrage common sense than the arguments made by our bankers, bondholders and goldmen generally in the discussion of this silver question. The tragedy of avarice, he said, was so repugnant to the moral sense of mankind that it always sought to disguise its ugliness by assuming the garb of virtue; so the bondholders and bankers told us they wanted silver coinage stopped, not for their own advantage, oh, no! but for the sake of the poor laboring man, whom they preferred to their own chiefest joy.

Mr. Vance ridicuied this pretension, and said war on silver was the interest, not of those who labor but of those who speculate in money. In reply to the statement that people would not take the silver dollar, and that when issued it had always come back to the Treasury, Vance contended that the law required our officers to pay it out and, if it came back, again to pay it out. If the officers of the Government had done their duty they would have met the issue which they have been no difficulty with silver dollars. They had refused to pay them out. There never had been another instance in our history in which our officers had boldly taken on themselves absolute discretion as to whether they would execute or not execute the law. The money lords of the time were controllers of our monetary affairs. These were the successors of the feudal lords of the Middle Ages, but they did not have the same class of persons to deal with. "One thing I can assure them," Vance said in conclusion; "that is that in this country, where the people rule, silver is not going to be demonetized." Mr. Brown remarked that, owing to severe hoarseness, he would prefer to postpone till Thursday next the delivery of his remarks on the silver question, and Mr. Vance said that he too would address the Senate that day on the same subject.

The Executive session then adjourned.

House of Representatives.

The Speaker announced the appointment of Singleton, of Mississippi; Wilson, of West Virginia, and Phelps, of New Jersey, as members of the Board of Regents of the Smithsonian Institute.

Mr. Barrows, of Michigan, from the Committee on Postoffices and Postroads, reported a resolution calling on the Postmaster-General for information as to changes made in the law regulating the compensation of railroad companies for carrying mails, and also as to what facilities are necessary to enable him to make a thorough and satisfactory examination of this subject. Adopted.

The House, on motion of Mr. Regan, of Texas, went into committee of the whole (with Mr. Blounts, of Georgia, in the chair) for the consideration of the President's message. Mr. Regan took the floor with a long and carefully prepared speech upon the financial question, advocating the double standard of value, condemning the national banking system and arguing in favor of applying a portion of the surplus in the treasury to the gradual payment of the public debt. He earnestly combatted the proposition to suspend the coinage of the silver dollar, maintaing that such a course would only have the effect of making a few more millions for the wealthy, and of adding largely to the army of tramps and paupers. He profoundly regretted that there should be differences within the Democratic party on the silver question. The President in his message, and the Secretary of the Treasury, in his report, had taken statesmanlike views of many questions, but on this question he could not agree with them. He must follow the traditions and principles of the Democratic party and uphold the interests of the people. The Democratic party was now on trial. The Republican party had been turned out of power because it had abandoned the people on all great questions, such as tariff, interstate commerce and coinage of silver, and had betrayed its trust to the money power. The Democratic party had come into power because it had resisted and denounced this course. Now, leading Democrats were found asking that the party take upon this question the very position that led to the downfall of the Republican party as a party.

Would it do this? If it did, the Democrats ought all to join the Republican party, for on this question there would be no difference between the two parties. If it did, the Democratic party ought to cease to exist. It had been the party of the people, resisting monopoly all through its history and defending and protecting the rights of the people. If it should ever become the defender of monopolies and corporations and money kings as against the rights of the people, it would cease to be the Democratic party, and the people would have to look elsewhere for the guardianship, protection and defense of their rights.

Mr. Bland, of Missouri, said that he had no doubt the Committee on Coinage, Weights and Measures would report some measure on the silver question at an early day. He therefore moved that the committee rise in order that debate might be postponed until it came up in regular order.

Mr. Symes, of Colorado, asked whether the gentleman could inform the House, with any degree of certainty, whether the committee would report in one, two or three days or in a week.

Mr. Bland could not say exactly when it would report or what it would report; but he had no doubt the subject would come up in regular order.

Mr. Symes stated that he knew a number of gentlemen on the floor who desired to deliver silver speeches, which were becoming somewhat cold, owing to the daily discussion in the Senate. He therefore gave notice that, at as early a day as possible, provided the Coinage Committee did not report an appropriate subject for debate, he would move that the House go into Committee of the Whole, in order to give these gentlemen an opportunity to deliver their speeches. In fact, he was willing they should have an opportunity today.

The question was put on Mr. Bland's motion, and, although solidly opposed by the Republicans, it was carried, by a vote of 79 to 73.

Adjourned.

WASHINGTON.

Cabinet Session—Confirmations by the Senate.

The Senate in executive session to day confirmed a large number of nominations, including George A. Jenks, Assistant Secretary of the Interior; Henry T. Muldrow, First Assistant Secretary of the Interior; William E. McLean, Fifth Deputy Commissioner of Pensions; Joseph J. Bartlett, Second Deputy Commissioner of Pensions; Jas. W. Wheelpley, of New York, Assistant Treasurer of the United States; Wm. E. Smith, of New York, Assistant Secretary of the Treasury; Conrad N. Jordan, of New Jersey, Treasurer of the United States; Colonel John Gibbon, to be Brigadier General; Colonel Alexander Band to be Inspector General with rank of Brigadier General; Captain Henry J. Farnsworth to be Inspector General with rank of Major; First Lieutenant Francis B. Jones to be Assistant Quartermaster with rank of Captain; Second Lieutenant Sidney E. Stuart to be First Lieutenant in the ordnance department; C. A. Dougherty, of Pennsylvania, to be Secretary of Legation at Rome; Albert Snyder, postmaster at Cheyenne.

CABINET MEETING.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—The Cabinet meeting to-day was attended by all the members except Secretary Endicott, who is out of the city. The session was unusually long, lasting about three and a half hours. It was mainly devoted to considering the policy to be adopted by the administration regarding applications made by certain committees of the Senate for information as to changes in certain Federal offices during the recess of Congress. A general interchange of views was had on the subject, but, as far as learned, no decided action was taken. The matter of appointments in the lighthouse service was also a subject for discussion. The general question also came up as to whether the Secretary of the Treasury is vested with legal authority to make original appointments in that service, or whether his legal functions in such appointments are not confined to the confirmation or rejection of nominations made by the Lighthouse Board. The matter will probably be referred to the Attorney General for an opinion.

COMMITTEE MATTERS.

The Appropriation Committee was called together to-day by Mr. Randall, and it was arranged to meet Wednesdays. Sub-committees were formed as follows: On the Sundry Civil Appropriation bill, Messrs. Randall, Forney, Barnes, Ryan and Long. Legislative, Executive and Judicial bill, Messrs. Holman, Townshend, Cabell, Cannon and Butterworth. Deficiency bill, Messrs. Burns, Adams, Lefevre, McComas and Cannon. Fortification bill, Messrs. Forney, Randall, Holman, Butterworth and Ryan. Pension bill, Messrs. Townshend, Cabell, Wilson, Long and Henderson. The Committee on Military Affairs appointed the following sub-committees: On General Army Appropriation bill, the chairman, General Bragg, and Messrs. Veile and Steel; on Military Academy bill, Messrs. Wheeler and Negley.

The Committee on Rivers and Harbors has extended a cordial invitation to all Senators and Representatives to appear before the committee when their States are reached in consideration of appropriation bills, and set forth the needs of their sections. The committee will meet on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays. The committee has made some arrangements preparatory to a formal consideration of the appropriation bill, and discussed the practicability of disposing at once time of rivers and harbors in each State, instead of separating the two subjects. It was finally decided to follow that course.

POSTMASTER AT SAN RAFAEL.

The President sent to the Senate the nomination of Russell Chapman to be postmaster at San Rafael, Colorado.

The Northern Pacific will Appeal.

NEW YORK, Jan. 12.—The following letter was made public to-day:

NORTHERN PACIFIC RAILROAD COMPANY, PRESIDENT'S OFFICE.
NEW YORK, Jan. 12.

To the Bondholders and Stockholders of the Northern Pacific Railroad Company:

It is publicly stated that Commissioner Sparks, of the General Land Office, has rendered a decision to the effect that this company has no grant of lands for its road between the Columbia river and Puget sound. There is no foundation in law or reason for such a decision. An appeal will be at once taken to the Secretary of the Interior, and, if necessary, the company will resort to the courts to maintain its rights. Neither you nor purchasers of the bonds of this company need entertain the slightest apprehension as to the result.

(Signed) HENRY HARRIS, President.

Just Saved Themselves.

GRAVENHURST, Ont., Jan. 12.—Early this morning a boarding-house was discovered to be on fire. The inmates, seventeen men, were asleep up-stairs, and were awakened by the roar of the flames. Three men rushed down the stairs before they fell, while the others got out through a window about two feet square. All were more or less burned. They did not save a single article of clothing, some having even their shirts burned off, escaping in a nude state, while the mercury stood 20 degrees below zero. They fled to a neighboring house, where they now are, some in a critical condition.

Died in a Passion.

PORTLAND, Or., Jan. 12.—A peculiar death occurred this morning in East Portland. Mrs. John B. Parker owns a pet dog, which, by loud barking, has annoyed the neighbors. This morning her next-door neighbor seized some stones for the purpose of killing the animal, when Mrs. Parker rushed out to the animal's rescue, and got into a passion. Angry words ensued, when suddenly the woman threw up her hands, and dropped dead. An autopsy showed paralysis of the heart. The woman was aged 46 years.

A Nerve Fiend.

BLOOMINGTON, Ind., Jan. 12.—Last night Mrs. Dobson, wife of James Dobson, a farmer living in Green county, was awakened by a negro farmhand, who had just split her husband's head open with an axe, killing him instantly. Mrs. Dobson had a fearful struggle with the negro as she lay in bed beside her murdered husband, but finally the monster fled. He was arrested and says he committed the deed in his sleep.

STANFORD'S IDEA.

Why Silver is the Money of the People.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—Senator Leland Stanford, of California, in conversation to-day on the general subject of national finances, spoke of silver money as the people's money, and of paper as the banker's money. Briefly illustrating the thought, he said that, by the labor of the people, silver was gotten out of the earth, and labor was expended on it at every stage of the various processes to which it was subjected between the mine and the mint, and that, when coined, and stamped, it circulated mainly among the people and among those whose financial affairs were not so extensive as to require bank accounts. On the other hand, paper money, especially the National bank notes, was obtained by bankers with bonds. It came the bankers' money in contradistinction with silver, because it was made for banks, issued by banks, based on bonds, represented little expenditure of labor, and did not, like silver coins, find its chief avenues of circulation among the people.

INQUEST

In Which the Jury and the Coroner Failed to Agree.

The inquest held at San Gabriel Mission yesterday by Coroner McFarland on the body of Rafael Higuera, stabbed the night before by Pancho Alvirso, developed the fact that the deceased entered the restaurant of Mrs. Lastra, where Alvirso and a friend were awaiting supper, and almost immediately fired upon Alvirso with a very large revolver. The men clinched after another shot had been fired, and Higuera was stabbed in the melee. He died early yesterday morning. The facts were plain, yet the jury insisted on finding a verdict of death caused by a person unknown. This the coroner refused to approve.

The prisoner no doubt acted in self-defense, but the stupidity of the jury caused Justice O. A. Stevens to issue a warrant for his examination this morning on a charge of murder.

STILL THEY COME.

Another Street Railroad Franchise Asked of Council.

Council referred to the Board of Public Works, yesterday, the petition of the Main Street and Agricultural Park R. R. Co., for a franchise to extend their line partly, and partly to renew the old franchise. The line specified is as follows: beginning at the present northern terminus at the foot of Temple street; southerly along Main street to a point twenty-five feet south of the south line of First street (thus far all old); thence double track along Main street to Washington, along Washington to Figueroa, along Figueroa to Jefferson, along Jefferson to Wesley avenue, and along Wesley avenue to city limits (all at present covered by a single track); also connecting with the above at the intersection of Main and Washington streets, southerly on Main to Jefferson, and westerly on Jefferson to re-connection with main line at Figueroa (the latter part all new).

The San Jose Award for School Work.

The return of the teachers of this county who were in attendance at the recent meeting of the State Teachers' Association at San Jose, has brought a full report of the session. The exhibit of school work was far more complete and satisfactory than had been expected. About twenty-five counties were represented in the exhibit. Los Angeles stood the only county in the southern end of the State that contributed. Besides the work of the city schools, which was very complete, the county was represented by the following districts: Pomona, Pasadena, Anaheim, Santa Ana, San Fernando, Santa Monica, Florence, Long Beach, Azusa, Green Meadows and Sulphur Springs.

The report of the Committee on Awards was very lengthy, but the points of special interest to Los Angeles county are these. The exhibit of the city schools, with special mention on account of the range of subjects represented. The work of the Central School in particular attracted attention. The diploma for the group of cities, however, was awarded to San José.

The county was awarded the diploma for its group on account of the number of districts represented and the general excellence of the work. The exhibits of Anaheim and Pasadena received special praise. No medals were given, as all the funds provided for that

Improvements on the Second-Street Cable Road.

The sale of property by the Los Angeles Improvement Company the past week considerably beat any former record. A number of new houses are being put up, including one to be immediately by Mr. Warren, a newcomer. As an example of rapid building, the case of Mr. Tuttle, a carpenter of this city, is probably without equal in Los Angeles. On Monday, the 4th instant, he bought a lot of the Improvement Company, and by Tuesday night had built a fairly good house on it and moved in. The house was not, of course fully completed, but answered the purpose of the family very well. The Improvement Company is about to carry out a most important enterprise. They have secured a water right in the Arroyo Seco, and in a few months they will pipe an abundance of pure mountain water all over their tract on the hills.

SENATOR JONES.

The Gentleman from Nevada Visits Los Angeles.

HIS FAITH IN SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA.

Interviewed by a "Times" Reporter. He Knows Nothing of the Santa Monica Railroad, but Much About Climate and Things.

Senator John P. Jones, of Nevada, came in from the north on his private car, Sunday. He was accompanied by his wife and children, and his brother, Sam L. Jones. The party stopped at the Depot Hotel Sunday night, and yesterday morning went down to Santa Monica, returning in the afternoon. At four o'clock a TIMES reporter found Senator Jones seated in the office of the Depot Hotel, submitting his shoes to the graces of "Nibsey," the liveliest and sanciest of local bootblacks. The Senator's big, pleasant face, ponderous form and ruddy color indicated good health, though he spoke of a recent six weeks' spell of sickness wherein he "came mighty near losing the number of his mess."

"Your visit is at an unfortunate time in points of weather," suggested the reporter, "and especially for a visit to the seaside. I presume you find much change at Santa Monica?"

"Change?" responded the Senator; "I should say so! Why, it is eleven years since my last visit to Santa Monica. I had not seen the place since 1874 until today. When I left, there was not a house there. Now it is a very pretty and very promising seaside resort."

"You were largely interested, I believe, in the construction of the Los Angeles and Independence railroad, the proposed railroad to Santa Monica. Articles of incorporation have been filed here, you are aware, for another railroad to Santa Monica."

"So I heard to-day for the first time, while at Santa Monica. I don't know anything about this proposed road, its personnel or its inspiration."

"It would hardly seem as though a second railroad to Santa Monica, pure and simple, would be a remarkably paying investment."

"No, indeed—nothing in it, whatever. There must be something back of it, I should judge, though I have not the remotest idea what it may be."

"What would you think, Senator, of a railway line up the coast, striking out from the Santa Monica line before here, going through the Cahuenga Pass, up on the west side of the San Fernando, then into and through the lower Santa Clara valley, touching at San Buenaventura and Santa Barbara, thence on through the Gaviota Pass to the west and north of the Santa Ynez range, and so on up the coast, making connection with that narrow-gauge at Los Alamos, this side of San Luis Obispo, and maybe to Santa Cruz, or even to 'Frisco?"

"Well, such a line could be built, and would open up a fine and practically undeveloped country, though it would be expensive. I have a great deal of faith in the future of Southern California. There is not another climate in the world so perfect. For everything that makes life not only endurable but enjoyable and delicious, for the dolce far niente of existence, this section seems to be the special pet of Providence. It isn't so much your orange groves, though they add beauty; nor your vineyards, fine as they are—but this marvelous climate. It is superb! It has all the advantages of both the temperate and tropic zones, eliminating their bad features. Now you go to Long Branch and you have to contend with periodical invasions of myriads of mosquitoes; and when it is hot, it's hotter than—well, hotter than I like it. But you have here a perfect paradise. This is the best climate in the world, and it will always attract. Why, when I tour Europe and see how jealously they guard their soil—how every smallest patch is reserved to the utmost, and supports a dense population—how each few acres has been the birthplace and support of generations of soldiers, I feel that we cannot thank our stars any of our land and say 'it is worthless.' The area now unimproved in Southern California will some day support an enormous population. The area that would be developed by such a road as you suggest is a very rich one, and its development is only a question of time."

"Do you plan to make a longer visit among us, Senator?"

"No, not this time. We proceed to Washington to-morrow."

At this juncture Mr. Gill, of the Ogilby mining syndicate, came in to chat with the Senator, and the reporter dispersed.

Is East Los Angeles Losing her Grip?

To the Editor of the Times—SIR: We say it is a question,—and the principle reason is lack of a proper avenue and street-car accommodations with the city proper. Our citizens already complain that property is not in as good demand on this side as on the west side and hills north of the city, while our distance is less and the location more favorable. We notice but few strangers on our pleasant side streets, this winter, looking for homes—and why? A ride on our horse cars, and a trip past the depot, is enough. The same car takes them back again, and we see them no more. Some say they would not drive past that depot every day if we would give them a house and lot on this side. Now, will the proposed bridge on this side help us? We say—no—it would be worse than the depot route, with its ever restless switch engine. The proposed bridge, of itself, would be so high as to be dangerous, considering the fact that two railroads would pass under it so near their decks, that the regular trains the switch engines of both roads would pass under it many times a day. Just imagine the combination—a high bridge for teams, a puffing, ringing locomotive with long train of cars passing under it, a nervous driver and frightened horses on the bridge—that would be worse than our present troubles. I don't think we want it; and then if having passed the bridge safely, think of passing through a most disreputable part of town before we reach Main street. Besides, we would have to travel on a half circle an extra quarter of a mile or more which we would not have to do if the proper course was taken, which is impracticable by opening Main street, through Bath street, in a direct line across Aliso street, past the back of Nadeau's warehouse through the Bine Gum grove, so as to strike Chaves street nicely, which is all right till you reach the river, then give us a good bridge, wide enough for a load of loose hay and room for two loads to pass each other, and then fill up the bottomless mud-hole on Chaves street, near Water street, and we will be fixed, with the nearest, cheapest and safest route possible to give us, and this is not all the advantages of this route. With Main street open and the electric railroad running on Los Angeles street, we could, with proper effort, get the company to extend their line through to East Los Angeles; and as they would have to pass through Chinatown to get here, I think that would be the last straw on that camel's back, and Chinatown would disappear. I favor the proposed electric road because it will, with its several branches, take passengers to any part of the city for one fare. As the other roads do now managed passengers frequently have to pay two fares to get where they want to go. Main street can be opened now at less expense than at any future time. Let us unite on the East Side it should be done at once, and as we contributed our share towards that dray-load of tax money, we feel that a part of it cannot be put to a better use than by giving us a direct and safe means of communication with the city proper. If our city fathers will take a bird's eye view of the country from the top of the Pico House (the roof is safe, being almost flat, with a wall two or three feet high all around it) they will see how few obstructions there are in the way of opening Main street, and no doubt be surprised to see how much it will curve to the south by the time it will reach Chaves street, on the side of the river. I hope these few lines will arouse our good people to action; and I would suggest that a public meeting be called to discuss this most important question; and as State societies are the style just now, can't we take a hint from them and form an East Los Angeles Society, for the good of all residing on the EAST SIDE.

City Surveyor Eaton informs the TIMES that the preliminary proceedings for extending Main street through Bath, across Alameda, and thence to the river, have been taken, and that, in two or three months, the street will probably be opened. The project was first broached several years ago, and has been quietly working out its destiny since.—ED. TIMES.

AT THE TABERNACLE.

Closing Meeting of Dr. Munhall's Series.

Rev. Mr. Blanchard, who has made the most of the reports published in these columns of the revival meetings at the tabernacle, sends the TIMES the following report of the

CLOSING TABERNACLE SERVICE:

The sea of human faces that appeared to one seated on the rostrum of the great Union Tabernacle Sunday evening, was such a sight as one is seldom favored to witness in a lifetime. One of the most remarkable features of the evening was the extra number of ringers that occupied the elevated seats from which Professor Northup's efficient choir have discovered sweet music night after night for the past five weeks. About 250 sang for the great throng Sunday evening, and entertained the thousands present with music of a high order, accompanied with two cornets, an organ and piano, all in competent hands.

One thing noticeable in Dr. Munhall's making his announcements is that his modesty is not excessive in advertising or speaking of his own efforts. He evidently has a good opinion of himself and his abilities; and why should he not? for he is really a smart man, a man of remarkable parts, whose poor health has struck this or any other city. He took occasion during the introductory services to refer to some anonymous communications received, severely and unfairly criticising his address to the women a week ago last Sunday, and other sermons he has preached here, where had it been very plain things in a very pleasant way. It was difficult, for some time, to decide what was to be the drift of the evening's service, the usual order being somewhat changed.

The doctor commenced to talk without taking a text, and canvassed briefly but humorously the origin and work of the various churches, and the Sunday school work, and finally he came to speak of the existence and necessity for the Young Men's Christian Association, calling attention to its origin, and its growth and spread throughout the civilized world. In his remarks on the prohibition of the liquor traffic and the benefits of total abstinence, the doctor was loudly applauded by the vast multitude. It soon became apparent that the evening's effort was in behalf of the Y. M. C. A., and a fine plea was made in favor of providing a more commodious and suitable building and facilities in this city for the said organization. The doctor continued to hold the vast assemblage in rapt attention for a full hour with his experiences and observations in the work of the Y. M. C. A., and other humanitarian efforts in various parts of the Union, narrating some very interesting incidents of those rescued by this means from lives of dissipation and personal neglect.

The Doctor stated that $2,500 was needed by the Y. M. C. A. of this city for the current expenses of the year to carry on the work efficiently, and he felt as though he would like to ask for that amount before sitting down; but as $3,000 was raised in the afternoon meeting, he thought it might not be wise to do so. Dr. Seymour then submitted some resolutions to the audience, which were adopted by a rising vote, in commendation of Dr. Munhall and his work.

While the choir led in singing, "I am Bound for the Land of Canaan," the ushers took a basket collection. The Doctor requested that while singing the last verse the Chatauqua Salute be given by all, viz.: waving their handkerchiefs over their heads, which was done accordingly.

The second, or jubilee meeting, began with brief speeches by a number of the city pastors, among whom were Revs. Spenser, Kirkham, Stevens, Boal, Bresee, Bradley, Dorsey, Hervey and Blanchard. Gelsey, Mrs J H Hurst, Neills G Fitzmier, F E Cliffe, Mrs Burnett W Mitchell, Mrs Kelly, E Williams, Miss Paul, J Hollier, F Mackel, W Haney, C Cavilier, J O'Hare, J Villars, A S Stevens, Mrs E Grable, Mrs Grable, S H Wood, T J Baldwin, C W McKee.

Dr. E. Robbins' Electro-Magnetic Institute, corner First and Spring streets, entrance on First street, is now fitted up, at considerable expense, with everything that is necessary to cure chronic and so-called incurable diseases, by the finest electrical apparatus ever used in Los Angeles, or indeed in the whole electric sulphur baths. Dr. Robbins has had several years' experience in the Australian colonies, San Francisco, Salt Lake City, Denver and three years in Los Angeles, and hundreds of leading citizens can testify to the wonderful effects of electricity in curing chronic diseases when all else had long failed, and therefore all persons suffering should try the new remedy before abandoning all hope. After every treatment the patients are treated with the massage treatment, by persons of their own sex. The Doctor Diagnoses disease without explanation from the patient, free of charge. His office hours are 8 till 12, 1 to 8.

Etchings and Rare Engravings.

A Money Losing Sale on Cloaks

Our entire stock of Cloaks must be sold. Now is the time to make selections. A money losing sale prior to inventory. The greatest sacrifice we ever made. Every article we quote is a positive loss. It will pay you to see them at once, whether you wish to purchase or not.
We are losing money on

100 REMNANTS OF DRESS GOODS.

Losing money on Jeans, Cassimeres and Tweeds. We have an unusually large quantity of the goods we advertise. We have sold the goods continually at the prices we say they are worth, and at the prices we now quote we lose on the like have never been sold.
The line of Dress Goods we quote at 75c is far better than any dollar cashmere ever offered. The black satin rhadams we offer at 75c caused a matched elsewhere for less than 1.25, and the black gros grain silk at 79c has been our bargain at 1.25. This will give you a small idea as to the pos cut we are now making during our Great Money Losing Sale.

OUR GREAT SURPRISE SALE

Commences To-Morrow.

THE PEOPLE'S STORE

Our Entire Store Transformed into One Mass of Surprising Values.

A GRAND TRANSFORMATION

Will greet the eye upon entering our stores to-morrow. Pile after pile of astounding goods will rise to view, and surprises will fall around like rain from a sobbing child.
Our surprise sale will touch your sympathetic nerve. It will reach father—it will touch your pockets, and every one who visits us to-morrow will be surprised at their lack of will power to resist, and those who don't come will be surprised at their folly as they see what surprising bargains the neighbors got at the great surprise sale. We will be surprised and you will be surprised and the Entire Community Will be Surprised

At the surprising success this great surprise sale is going to have. Surprise awaits you from every country in the world, and the People's Store has gathered them all up to present them as a whole to the people of the semi-tropics.
We will show you what is not a surprise even now—that the People's Store will have

VALUES BEYOND THE PALE OF COMPETITION.

We ask you to look at everybody's remnants is town, for they all have remnant tables, and if ours are not 50 per cent cheaper than anybody's, don't you buy them. Goods are stacked up all over the store in monster heaps, and we are going to have them carted away. Everything you can think of is going to be thrown into this sale—

Men, Women and Children's Wear of All Kinds.

We have given our manager carte blanche to surprise you, and the attractive manner in which his preparations have gone on and the fearless disregard of prices leads us to believe that he will tender you and us a genuine surprise.

According to the estimates of the government experts the farmers of the United States raised last year two billion bushels of corn, 629,000,000 bushels of oats, and 357,000,000 bushels of wheat; quite a liberal supply of food for both man and beast. The market value of the three crops is put at one billion dollars. A nation that can take this sum of money yearly from the soil is in no particular danger of famine or bankruptcy, and can laugh a good deal of crude statesmanship on financial and economic subjects. This year's crop of cereals is said to be the largest on record, in point of volume, and if equally distributed would give each inhabitant a ration of fifty-three bushels, or a bushel a week—quite enough to keep the wolf from the door; that is, if the wolves were properly distributed.

AMUSEMENTS.

DRAMA.—Jacques Kruger and his company played to a slim house last evening. They deserved better, but the bad streets, the threats of more rain, and the steady line of amusements preceding were all against them. Kruger is really immense. He has that rarest characteristic in comedians of knowing where to draw the line—he does not overdo his part. The man which he produces is of an original turn, and it is spontaneous, happy and innocent.

He will be supported by Miss Anna Boyle and a company of unequaled excellence. The box office is now open for the sale of reserved seats, without extra charge.

ALVIN JOSLIN'S COMEDY COMPANY.—With a fine uniformed band and admirable operatic solo orchestra, will appear at the Opera House on Friday and Saturday, January 15th and 16th, and Saturday matinee. Reserved seats now on sale.

Fire in Vernon District.

Last Sunday morning, between 2 and 3 o'clock, a small grocery store and Chinese laundry, at the corner of Jefferson and Alameda streets, were burned to the ground. The origin of the fire is unknown. The building was owned by one Peris, a Basque, and was partially insured. The store was run by an Italian, known as Italian Joe. He was asleep when the fire occurred, and was quite badly burned before he could get out. All the groceries, including a lot of liquors, were destroyed. The contents of the laundry were also burned. The total loss is estimated at about $1000.

COLD.

Thirty Degrees Below Zero in New York State.

FOUR INCHES OF SNOW IN TEXAS.

And Frigidity All Along the Line. But It is Thought That the Hyperborean Wave is Receding.

Associated Press Dispatches to The Times.

CORNCIL BLUFFS, Ia., Jan. 13.—Thos. Delisle is a farmer residing ten miles south of this city. Saturday his son Louis came to town with a team of mules to do some trading. In the evening he started home. When some distance from here his team took fright and ran away, throwing Delisle out. He got up, gave chase, and caught the team in a snow drift three miles from the city. He extricated them, and, while hitching up, they started again, throwing him down, one wheel passing over his breast. He again gave chase, but he soon felt exhausted from his injuries. The team finally reached home. Mr. Delisle and party hastened in search of his son. The search continued all night. Saturday Louis was discovered near Willow Slough bridge, both hands holding to a barb-wire fence, and his arms frozen stiff. He was in a kneeling position, with both legs frozen. He could not move. The thermometer was twenty-five degrees below zero. He had dragged himself a mile. He was carried home and died last night.

Still Cold in the South.

NEW YORK, Jan. 12.—Reports from all parts of the South telling of extreme cold weather continue.

At Staunton, Va., the thermometer was 10 degrees below zero this morning, and it has been intensely cold all day.

At Augusta, Ga., it was six degrees above zero this morning, with ice heavy enough to bear pedestrians, but it has moderated somewhat to night.

At Richmond, Va., the thermometer marked zero in exposed places.

At Fredericksburg it was 10° below, and elsewhere in the State about the same.

At Charlotte, N. C., on account of ice blockading the tunnels, travel on the Western North Carolina railroad has been suspended since last Saturday.

The Snow Flow Jumped.

JOLIET, Ill., Jan. 13.—A fatal accident occurred on the Chicago, St. Louis and Western Railroad yesterday, near Roanoke, a small station about thirty miles below Streator. Three engines with a snow plow started out from Streator to clear the track of snow, and when near Roanoke struck a large drift of heavy packed snow with such force that the snow plow and head engine were thrown from the track and badly wrecked, the other engines not leaving the rails. Lucas Slopson, who was engineer of the head engine, was found pinned to the ice and snow and crushed to death, though his fireman miraculously escaped with only a few bruises.

The "Cold Snap" Abating.

CHICAGO, Jan. 12.—Reports received by the Signal Service state that the cold weather is moderating rapidly. Fargo reported 12 degrees above zero. Still five degrees below. The temperature is six degrees below in this city, at 8 o'clock this morning, with no wind and light railway movements are beginning to arrive more promptly.

Thirty Below Zero in New York.

NEW YORK, Jan. 12.—Reports from the interior of the State show that last night was the coldest of the season, the thermometer indicating from twenty-five to thirty degrees below zero.

Four Inches of Snow in Texas.

SAN ANTONIO, Jan. 12.—Telegraphic advices received to-day state that a heavy storm prevails at Galveston, Tex. Four inches of snow has already fallen, and it is still snowing hard.

Cold on All Sides.

BOSTON, Jan. 12.—From all parts of New England come reports of very cold weather. At Merstown, Vermont, it is 40 degrees below zero.

HIGH JINKS.

The Ohio Legislature Organized in a Tumultuous Way.

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 12.—The Committee on Privileges and Elections of the House of Representatives this morning reported a resolution to unseat the Democratic member from Hamilton county. The resolution was amended to provide for a hearing to be accorded the unseated member, and the resolution was adopted under the previous question. The seat was then declared vacant amid the greatest confusion and in the midst of a howling mob. Nine Republican members came forward and were sworn in by the Speaker. They were cheered by Republicans and jeered by Democrats. The Speaker ordered the Democratic members to turn over the keys to their desks. The action of to-day is ample assurance for the election of Sherman, and will give him twenty-one majority on joint ballot in convention of the two branches to-morrow.

MAJOR DAVIS HEARD FROM.

Not Reassured, but Prosecuting a Vigorous Campaign.

EL PASO, Tex., Jan. 12. News has just been received concerning the movements of Major Davis and his command of one troop of cavalry and eighty-five Indian scouts, who moved into the heart of the Sierra Madre mountains in Mexico over a month ago. Nothing was learned of their movements, and fears were entertained that they had been massacred by the hostiles. It is now learned that the force has safely reached Lesas Grandes without having encountered the Apaches. From the point named a message was sent to Colonel Torres, commanding the Mexican forces stationed at El Valle, with whom a co-operative plan of action was agreed upon. A vigorous campaign is now being prosecuted by the joint forces against Apaches.

Germany and Samoa.

LONDON, Jan. 12.—The Standard's correspondent at Berlin says; Admiral Krom, commanding the German men-of-war Bismarck, Genoisnan and Olga, has been ordered to Samoa to settle the differences between the German government and King Malstro. When amicable relations shall have been arranged the German flag, which was hoisted over Samoa, will be hauled down. Germany has no intention to violate the neutrality agreement with England and America.

Parliament Opened.

LONDON, Jan. 12.—Parliament opened to-day. Large crowds congregated in the vicinity of Parliament House long before the beginning of the session. When Bradlaugh and Gladstone arrived they were loudly cheered. The vaults of the House of Parliament were thoroughly searched this morning, but no indications of the "Guy Fawkes" plot were discovered. Right Hon. Arthur Wellesly was re-elected Speaker of the House of Commons without opposition.

Stricken With Paralysis.

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 12.—A dispatch from Jacksonville, Mississippi, announces the death at 11:30 o'clock last night, of Colonel E. D. Richardson, of the firm of Richardson and Mayer, of this city, president of the late World's Exposition, and one of the largest cotton planters in the world. Colonel Richardson was stricken with paralysis while walking on the street and died before aid could reach him.

The Queen Will Be Guarded.

LONDON, Jan. 12.—The Daily News says: "The Queen's speech in opening Parliament will refer in a guarded manner to Irish local government. Mr. Gladstone will not move an amendment to the address in reply to the speech."

A Big Chicago Fire.

CHICAGO, Jan. 12.—The flour warehouse of Frederick Vehmeyer, on Kenzie street, took fire this morning and was almost entirely consumed, with contents. The loss will reach $250,000.

General of the Jesuits.

LONDON, Jan. 12.—Father Beck, General of the Jesuits, is reported dying.

SAN FRANCISCO.

Judge Dwinelle Dead—Pearson's Son—Examiner Pennypacker.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 12.—H. H Pearson, who was reported yesterday in a dispatch from Salt Lake as having shot and killed Forrest Green at Nephi, is a son of H. H. Pearson, manager of the Baldwin Hotel in this city. The latter received a telegram from a younger son who is at Nephi, which states that the shooting was accidental. H. H. Pearson leaves here for the scene of the killing this afternoon.

TO INVESTIGATE THE SURVEY.

Colonel John D. Pennypacker, of Virginia, Examiner of United States Surveys, with his assistant, J. F. Laderes, has arrived from the East, and is awaiting orders from Commissioner Sparks. Colonel Pennypacker has recently been engaged in investigating some of the irregularities of the Land Department in New Mexico, and for his efficiency in that field has been sent to perform a similar office in California, as it has been alleged that there have been extensive frauds perpetrated in United States surveys on this coast.

NO DAMAGE, BUT A BENEFIT.

The Chronicle this morning prints a series of dispatches from all parts of the State with reference to the effect upon the coming grain and fruit crops of the cold weather which has been prevailing for some time. Without exception, these dispatches state that the frost, instead of proving injurious, as was feared, will prove most beneficial.

RAIN.

Rain began falling lightly here about 6 o'clock this evening, and has continued ever since, with indications of increased precipitation during the night. It also raised at Napa, Merced, San Bernardino, Colusa, Chico and Santa Rosa.

JUDGE DWINELLE DEAD.

Judge S. H. Dwinelle died suddenly at his residence, of apoplexy, at 11 a. m. to day.

THE SLEEPING BEAUTY.

She Wakes Up on the Sixty-Seventh Day of Her Nap.

COLUMBUS, Neb., Jan. 12.—The news has just reached here from the Dishner farm, some distance northeast, that Minnie Dishner, Nebraska's sleeping beauty, recovered consciousness on January 3rd, the sixty-seventh day of her trance-sleep. The roads have been impassable until the present time, and news of her recovery could not be received before. Those who live in the trance from which she has now recovered, on October 6th last. During this long interval she has lain, to all appearances, a lifeless being with the exception of respiration and pulsation. When Miss Dishner awoke, her mind was apparently clear and unimpaired, her appetite and general feelings good. But her memory could not be fully resumed. She says that she was conscious during the whole time of the protracted trance, but, although she tested her mind frequently to prove her consciousness, she could not move a single muscle. She says she had no physical pain until the fortieth day of her sleep, when electric battery was applied. Since then she has suffered a thousand agonies of body and at times it seems as though her mind would give way under the strain, and she now complains of terrible physical sufferings in consequence of the shock to her system. The doctor in attendance says, however, that she will recover in a short time, and will also regain the full use of her limbs.

JUDGE NOAH DAVIS.

He Gives President Cleveland a Send-off.

NEW YORK, Jan. 12.—The 116th anniversary dinner of the New York Marine Society was held last evening. Forty gentlemen were present. Judge Noah Davis, in response to "The Judiciary," said of President Cleveland: "So far as I am capable of judging, I say to you, Republican as I am, no man has ever sought more arduously than he to do his duty; in my humble opinion, has succeeded better as President of the United States amid the great events which are coalescing around him and the tremendous struggle to impeach him, or to maintain the ground he has taken. I say we can have no higher duty, regardless of party, than to support him. (Cheers.) Efforts to break him down are being made. I can see the storm brewing, but the great body of the people must stand by him to avert the danger of an overthrow of executive power, and destruction brought upon the best interests of the country."

WYOMING.

A Democratic Sweep in Cheyenne—The Legislature.

CHEYENNE, Wyo., Jan. 12.—At the city election to-day the entire Democratic ticket was elected by a decisive majority. The Democrats gain in the City Council, now having a majority of five in that body.

THE LEGISLATURE.

The Ninth Legislative Assembly of Wyoming met here to-day and formed a temporary organization. Owing to a question of the legality of the elections of members who were elected without an apportionment of the Territory by law previous to 1885, no legislation will be attempted until Congress shall have taken action in the matter. The Legislature adjourned after reporting to Congress by telegraph.

De Lesseps Wants His Canal Inspected and Passed Upon.

PARIS, Jan. 12.—De Lesseps has written to the principal Chambers of Commerce, asking them to appoint delegates to accompany him to Panama, for which place he will start on the 28th inst. The Panama Canal Company will invite delegates from England, Germany and America to visit the isthmus and inquire into the feasibility of completing the canal. The expenses of the delegates will be borne by the company. De Lesseps is sanguine that the work will be successful.

Floods in the Balkans.

LONDON, Jan. 12.—Advices received here say that a thaw, accompanied by heavy rains, is prevailing in the Balkans, and has caused much destruction. The Maritza, the principal river in Roumelia, has overflowed its banks, flooding the surrounding country. Bridges have been swept away, and a number of villages totally destroyed. Dispatches say that many people perished, but no definite statement has yet been received.

Denver and Rio Grande Litigation.

DENVER, Jan. 12.—In a foreclosure suit against the Denver and Rio Grande R. R., pending in favor of the consolidated bondholders, the trustee of the general mortgage bondholders yesterday filed an answer in the United State Circuit Court, denying the present right of foreclosure and setting up new equities. The litigation on these questions will require much time and will jeopardize the reorganization.

The Stage Got Away.

SONORA, Cal., Jan. 12.—The up-stage from Milton was stopped at Funk Hill at 7 o'clock-to-night by two masked men. Express Messenger Banks fired at each of the highwaymen. The effect is not known. The driver started his team on a dead run. The robbers fired seven shots, several piercing the trunks on the hind boot. The three passengers were uninjured.

Russia Again Making Trouble.

LONDON, Jan. 12.—A fight has taken place between a body of Russian troops and 6,000 Shoboovals, who were crossing the Persian frontier. Eighty Shoboovals and seventeen Cossacks were killed in battle, and large numbers were wounded. The Russian commander has asked reinforcements. The Persian government is said to fear a Russian invasion.

Professor Roe Dead.

VALLEJO, Jan. 12.—Professor William F. Roe died this morning, after an illness of three or four days from pneumonia and heart trouble. He was a native of Elmira, N. Y., and aged 63. Previous to coming to this State, in 1870, he was professor of languages in several colleges in New York and Connecticut. He was the postmaste in this city. George Roe, editor of the Times, is a son of the deceased.

CONGRESSIONAL.

Silver Still On the Boards in the Senate,

AND THE HOUSE SPOILING FOR IT.

Pugh Continues His Argument for Silver, and is Followed by Vance in the Same Vein.

Associated Press Dispatches to The Times.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—The President pro tem. asked permission of the Senate to be absent after to-morrow for the remainder of the week, and that Senator Hawley be substituted as presiding officer during that time. Unanimous consent was given.

Mr. Logan, from the Committee on Military Affairs, reported favorably a bill providing for the purchase of the old Produce Exchange as a site in New York City for army purposes. The bill appropriates $450,000, or so much as may be necessary for the purchase of the site and necessary alterations in the remodeling of the building. The bill, on Mr. Logan's motion, was read the third time and passed.

Mr. Pugh resumed his remarks on the Beck silver resolution. The London press, he said, had joined the money kings of our Eastern States in demanding of Congress a suspension of silver coinage. They want to sweep away every kind of money but gold. Then, indeed, we should have no God but gold, and no kings but the National Banks. Silver, Mr. Pugh insisted, had not been treated fairly, either by our public officers or banks, but had held up well in spite of them. Whenever silver gets the same treatment as gold, under the national laws of supply and demand, if then it should not hold its own, Mr. Pugh would deem the controversy settled. But he had no doubt that silver would come out all right in any case. Mr. Pugh expressed a willingness to support any change in the existing law that would withdraw any paper currency under $10, or even $20, so as to give the entire field for the use of small bills, or small change, to silver and silver certificates. He advocated the passage of a bill heretofore introduced by Mr. George, which Mr. Pugh said would give the national banks a better opportunity of becoming acquainted with silver.

Mr. Vance followed. He said the present attempt of the moneyed men to depreciate silver was one of the grandest conspiracies ever seen. It was financial and commercial treason directed at the common people of all lands. The banner of the attacking party should bear in plain letters the words of holy writ, "To him that hath shall be given, and from him that hath not shall be taken away even that which he seemeth to have." After considering the question of the whole amount of money in use in the world, Mr. Vance went on to show that growing commerce and increasing population required increased money facilities. The increase of our own population, he said, was 3 per cent per annum, and our manufactures 2½ per cent. The mines of the world were yielding only 1½ per cent. Increase of the present money supply. Yet we were told that we must obliterate fifty-four per cent. of the money supply, that being the ratio of silver in the world's stock of coin. The success of efforts against silver would result in the greatest industrial calamities. Every species of property would shrink, the only exception to this result being gold and debts, which would be increased to an extent which property would have shrunk. Every public creditor, Vance said, took our silver dollar gladly, except only the class that distinctly and solemnly agreed in writing to take it. But we were told that silver had gone down. This was not so much true as that gold had gone up. Vance read from the late financial reports of Havana markets to show that American silver dollars were at a premium over the silver coins of England and France. In the course of all his economic reading he said, from Moses to Sunset Cox, he had never met a case so clear as that made now by the enemies of silver. He had heard many cases argued in school-boy clubs and in crossroads debating societies; he had heard the plea made from the tail of gingerbread carts and had read endless platitudes in the Congressional Record, but he had never met or seen a worse abuse of logic or a feebler attempt to outrage common sense than the arguments used by our bankers, bondholders and goldmen generally in the discussion of this silver question.

The rapacity of avarice, he said, was so repugnant to the moral sense of mankind that it always sought to disguise its ugliness by assuming the garb of virtue; so the bondholder and banker told us they wanted silver coinage stopped, not for their own advantage, oh, no! but for the sake of the poor workingmen, whom they preferred to their own chiefest joy.

Mr. Vance ridiculed this pretension, and said war on silver was the interest, not of those who labor but of those who speculate in money. In reply to the statement that people would not take the silver dollar, and that when issued it had always come back to the Treasury, Vance contended that the law required the officers to pay it out and, if it came back, again to pay it out. If the officers of the Government had done their duty and complied with the law there would have been no difficulty with silver dollars. They had refused to pay them out. There never had been another instance in our history in which our officers had boldly taken on themselves absolute discretion as to whether they would execute or not execute the law. The money lords of the world were controllers of our monetary affairs. These were the successors of the feudal lords of the Middle Ages, but they did not have the same class of persons to deal with. "One thing I can assure them," Vance said in conclusion; "that is that in this country, where the people rule, silver is not going to be dethroned." Mr. Bland remarked that, owing to severe hoarseness, he would prefer to postpone till Thursday next the delivery of his remarks on the silver question, and Mr. Maxey said that he too would address the Senate that day on the same subject.

The Executive session then adjourned.

House of Representatives.

The Speaker announced the appointment of Singleton, of Mississi ppi; Wilson, of West Virginia, and Phelps, of New Jersey, as members of the Board of Regents of the Smithsonian Institute.

Mr. Burrows, of Michigan, from the Committee on Postoffices and Postroads, reported a resolution calling on the Postmaster-General for information as to changes made in the law regulating the compensation of railroad companies for carrying mails, and also as to what facilities are necessary to enable him to make a thorough and satisfactory examination of this subject. Adopted.

The House, on motion of Mr. Regan, of Texas, went into committee of the whole (with Mr. Blounts, of Georgia, in the chair) for the consideration of the President's message. Mr. Regan took the floor with a long and carefully prepared speech upon the financial question, advocating the double standard of value, condemning the national banking system and arguing in favor of applying a portion of the surplus in the treasury to the gradual payment of the public debt. He earnestly combatted the proposition to suspend the coinage of the silver dollar, maintaing that such a course would only have the effect of making a few more millions for the wealthy, and of adding largely to the army of tramps and paupers. He profoundly regretted that there should be differences within the Democratic party on the silver question. The President in his message, and the Secretary of the Treasury, in his report, had taken statesmanlike views of many questions, but on this question he could not agree with them. He must follow the traditions and principles of the Democratic party and uphold the interests of the people. The Democratic party was now on trial. The Republican party had been turned out of power because it had abandoned the people on all great questions, such as tariff, interstate commerce and coinage of silver, and had betrayed its trust to the money power. The Democratic party had come into power because it had resisted and denounced this course. Now, leading Democrats were found asking that the party take upon this question the very position that led to the downfall of the Republican party as a party.

Would it do this? If it did, the Democrats ought all to join the Republican party, for on this question there would be no difference between the two parties. If it did, the Democratic party ought to cease to exist. It had been the party of the people, resisting monopoly all through its history and defending and protecting the rights of the people. If it should ever become the defender of monopolies and corporations and money kings as against the rights of the people, it would cease to be the Democratic party, and the people would have to look elsewhere for the guardianship, protection and defense of their rights.

Mr. Bland, of Missouri, said that he had no doubt the Committee on Coinage, Weights and Measures would report some measure on the silver question at an early day. He therefore moved that the committee rise in order that debate might be postponed until it came up in regular order.

Mr. Symes, of Colorado, asked whether the gentleman could inform the House, with any degree of certainty, whether the committee would report in one, two or three days or in a week.

Mr. Bland could not say exactly when it would report or what it would report; but he had no doubt the subject would come up in regular order.

Mr. Symes stated that he knew a number of gentlemen on the floor who desired to deliver silver speeches, which were becoming somewhat cold, owing to the daily discussion in the Senate. He therefore gave notice that, at as early a day as possible, provided the Coinage Committee did not report an appropriate subject for debate, he would move that the House go into Committee of the Whole, in order to to give these gentlemen an opportunity to deliver their speeches. In fact, he was willing they should have an opportunity today.

The question was put on Mr. Bland's motion, and, although solidly opposed by the Republicans, it was carried, by a vote of 79 to 73.

Adjourned.

WASHINGTON.

Cabinet Session—Confirmations by the Senate.

The Senate in executive session today confirmed a large number of nominations, including George A. Jenks, Assistant Secretary of the Interior; Henry T. Muldrow, First Assistant Secretary of the Interior; William E. McLean, First Deputy Commissioner of Pensions; Joseph J. Bartlett, Second Deputy Commissioner of Pensions; Jas. W. Wheelpley, of New York, Assistant Treasurer of the United States; Wm. H. Smith, of New York, Assistant Secretary of the Treasury; Conrad N. Jordan, of New Jersey, Treasurer of the United States; Colonel John Gibbon, to be Brigadier General; Colonel Absalom Baird to be Inspector General with rank of Brigadier General; Captain Henry J. Farnsworth to be Inspector General with rank of Major; First Lieutenant Francis B. Jones to be Assistant Quartermaster with rank of Captain; Second Lieutenant Sidney E. Stuart to be First Lieutenant in the Quartermaster Department; C. A. Dougherty, of Pennsylvania, to be Secretary of Legation at Rome; Albert Snyder, postmaster at Cheyenne.

CABINET MEETING.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—The Cabinet meeting to-day was attended by all the members except Secretary Endicott, who is out of the city. The session was unusually long, lasting about three and a half hours. It was mainly devoted to considering the policy to be adopted by the administration regarding applications made by certain committees of the Senate for information as to changes in certain Federal offices during the recess of Congress. A general interchange of views was had on the subject, but, as far as learned, no decided action was taken. The matter of

The Apaches.

It has become rather popular on this Coast to leap with agility and violence upon the soldierly frame of General George Crook, the best Indian fighter in the United States army, as we have always reminded, because he has not conducted his campaigns in a manner to please the able editorial Jominis, the profound Territorial statesmen, and the patriotic contractors of Arizona. This is natural, but General Crook is not the officer to devise or execute his campaigns in the interest of the tripartite league which embraces his bitterest critics. He is a soldier, and pursues soldierly methods in a soldierly manner.

As the Chicago Inter-Ocean remarks, several wise editors in their sanctums, and one or two Congressmen between drinks, have made the announcement that "General Crook is a great failure," and they point to "a score of settlers who have been killed by the murderous Apaches" to prove their assertions. Such people are poor readers of history who imagine that these warlike savages, the craftiest and bravest of their kind, are going to sit down in camp and let white men come up and lead them away captive. A campaign against the savage Apaches over the cactus fields and almost impassable mountains of Arizona is attended with difficulties which few people understand who have never been over the ground.

The same journal further says, in a leading editorial reviewing the Apache question:

> With remarkable unanimity army officers in active service and those who are no longer in actual service agree in the view that all the troublesome Indians should be placed wholly under the supervision and control of the army until they become self-supporting, or nearly so. They point to instances running over a series of many years to show that wherever this has been resorted to it has been successful in accomplishing exactly what it has set out to do. They point also to such soldiers as General O. Howard, General A. H. Terry, General George Crook, and others who have been intrusted with some such responsibility and who have made good the army's claim.

The divided responsibility—that is, with the War Department and Interior Department at the other control, and neither with complete power—is one which seems to be unsatisfactory to both. No doubt the subject will soon again receive the earnest consideration of these departments at Washington.

When General Sheridan visited the far Southwest during the past year he gave the Indian question in General Crook's department some attention. On his return East he enlarged General Crook's department and placed upon him additional duties and responsibilities. General Sheridan's confidence in General Crook, is fully shared by General Pope who commands the Military Division of the Pacific, one of whose departments is Arizona. Who is General Crook? Those best acquainted with him describe him as a man of a cool head, long experience in dealing with Indians, quiet, intelligent, keen, indefatigable; he never asks an officer or man to do or undertake what he himself would shrink from; he is tireless in pursuing his profession; the Indians respect and fear him; he is a plain man, of few words, and has often been described as resembling General Grant in his simple ways and quiet, resistless campaigns. If one man in the army can settle the Apache question on the Arizona and New Mexico border, General Crook's friends believe he is that man.

We think it can be fairly claimed that wherever General Crook, in the past, has fallen short of what the country had a right to expect from him in his campaigns against the hostiles, the fault has been at the door of others. He has too often been interfered with and hampered in the exercise of his military authority by the agents of the Interior Department—the Indian agents, some of whom have wallowed in corruption and by their bad course have demoralized "the Nation's wards" and made General Crook's task doubly hard. Of one thing we are certain: The commendation of such veteran and well-posted Indian commanders as Generals Sheridan and Pope, who have approved the course of Crook, is of more value, and entitled to more weight, than the opinions of a regiment of Arizona sanotum soldiers, Indian agents, contractors and politicians.

Secretary Lamar recommends that the hostile Chiricahua Apaches, when captured, be placed on some island in the Pacific ocean and taught to support themselves by stock-raising, fishing, farming, etc. Santa Cruz Island, in the Santa Barbara Channel, has been frequently advocated as a good place for an Apache reservation. Santa Barbara wants it, and we are in favor of seeing Santa Barbara's wish granted her, albeit she may, in the sweet bye-and-bye, get up and howl against the presence of the savage sons of the sun-kissed land.

Whitehead's Boy and Whitehead's Story.

Whitehead, the scrub who ran himself completely out in Los Angeles editing a putative Republican paper, and then got an appointment under a Democratic administration as a non-offensive partisan, is still endeavoring to make capital with the public out of the recent episode of the recovery of his child. An Ohio paper which is just at hand contains an article of more than a column in length recounting the story. It is told in Whitehead's florid style, and, ten to one, is from his own pen. The heading reads: "Sensational Story—Wife of a Journalist Deserts Her Husband, and Perpetrates a Fraud on the Orphan's Home—Happy Finale at the Home Yesterday." This epitomizes the article. The writer goes over the same lingo that has already been presented, about the wife running away with $4,000 of Whitehead's hard-earned money, denying him any knowledge of the whereabouts of the children, and placing the little boy in the Orphan Asylum, where he remained a year or so before the father found him. The facts are that Whitehead never saved a cent in his life, and is, to all intents, a worthless scamp. His wife went away from him with his full knowledge and took with her $2000, all that was left of her own patrimony. Whitehead knew her whereabouts and also that of the children, and was appealed to to support his family, but refused to do it. Mrs. Whitehead still resides in Los Angeles, and is a worthy woman. She filled the position of housekeeper at the Long Beach Hotel last summer, and still supports herself by her labors.

San Diego Water.

The San Diego Sun has been reading that horrible but true story of the two Englishmen who, armed with the spirit of adventure and two casks of Los Angeles water, made a fearful journey from Los Angeles into the cactus-guarded terra incognita down by the border of the Mexican Republic, which (the horrible story, not the Mexican Republic) was published in the TIMES a little while back. And the Sun deliberately undertakes to work off upon an unsuspecting public the following highly preposterous and strictly Munchausenish version of the affair:

> "Those two Englishmen called at the Sun office this morning, very indignant. They said their demijohns did not contain water, but stale Los Angeles whisky, which had been palmed off upon them by representing that the water in San Diego was not very palatable. They have filled the demijohns from one of our numerous city hydrants, and will carry them back to astonish the natives when they get to Los Angeles."

Now for the facts: At 4:35 o'clock yesterday afternoon those two Englishmen, in a famished condition, with protruding, parched and swollen tongues, bloodshot eyes, 'eated 'eads, and suffering soles, dragged themselves back into the cool and inviting precincts of Los Angeles, and throwing their hexhausted British bodies down by the grass-green marge of one of our numerous babbling brooks, they each mustered strength enough to murmur, with unanimous simultaneousness: "By Jove; Hi've got a thirst on that I wouldn't take a 'underd pun' for!"

The High-Bridge Controversy.

To the Editor of the Times—SIR: In your issue of January 12 we noticed, in an article over the signature of "East Side," one true statement, i. e., that the reason East Los Angeles was losing its grip was the want of a proper avenue and street-car accommodations. But when he attacks the proposed high bridge on Buena Vista street he displays his personal prejudice, or ignorance when he states that a switch engine running under the high bridge would frighten horse s, etc.

He forgets that there is little, if any, cause for switching north of Buena Vista street, but that there is a switch engine running almost incessantly along Alameda street at the proposed crossing of Main street extension, switching cars to the lumber yards, mills, Naud's warehouse and the railroad spur track.

And, besides, said Main street has to cross two other railroad tracks, besides running quite a distance along side of the railroad team track back of Naud's warehouse. He should know that the most dangerous place for a nervous horse is on a street where a train or switch engine is liable to come suddenly in sight and pass directly in front of him. Then he has an opportunity to turn and get out of the way, as is often the case on city streets where they are crossed by railroads.

"East Side" caps the climax when he expects the city to take its public money to open out and improve Chavez street or Main street extension. It certainly ought to know that the city cannot do that, but it must be done by the property owners along the line of said street. Let "East Side" and his associate property owners on Chavez street exert some of the enterprise that is being shown in the Second-street extension, and they would have no trouble in having their street opened out through to East Los Angeles.

Do not understand me to be objecting to their having a bridge, for I do not.

On the contrary, I think they should have one as soon as the property-owners on said street put it in such a condition that it will accommodate the traveling public.

If "East Side" is in the least interested in East Los Angeles, he should not be making objections to the high bridge on Buena Vista street, as Buena Vista street is the broadest, best drained and most beautiful driveway in or out of Los Angeles. And the disreputable part he speaks of was removed from Buena Vista street last spring. It is now one of the most quiet streets in the city.

COLTON BOOMING.

Notes of Activity, Energy and Progress.

Colton Semi-Tropic.]

Superintendent J. N. Victor and Chief Engineer Ferris, of the California Southern Railroad, were in town Wednesday, looking over the situation in this place.

Roadmaster Potter, of the C. S. R. R., was in Colton Wednesday attending to the commencement of the improvements being made by his company near the Y tracks.

California Southern engineers were engaged Wednesday in running levels and setting pegs for the new buildings to be built here by the C. S. R. R. Co., near the Y tracks.

Over 300,000 feet of lumber has been shipped to this point during the past three weeks for use in the construction of the Gage and other irrigating canals on the south banks of the Santa Ana river.

The price of Colton town lots has been raised 25 per cent. by the Western Development Company.

It does not look very much now as though we were to have any union depot, but that the A., T. and S. F. and California Southern railroad people will erect a freight and passenger depot entirely independent of the Southern Pacific, and on their own ground.

More town lots were sold during the past six days in Colton than was ever recorded during a similar length of time since the town was established. The majority of those buying are outsiders who have become enthused over our bright railroad prospects. Property of all kinds is rapidly enhancing in value, and our town is "booming."

Our citizens seem a little "rattled" at trains lately. There are so many passenger, freight and specials arriving and departing from this point these days that none of us have fully got the run of things yet. We have plenty of excitement, and our town is the liveliest one of its size on the Coast to-day.

When we look at the fact that the A., T. and S. F. R. R. people are figuring on securing a tract of over fifty acres of land near town for their machine shops, etc., it looks as though there was something in the news published that it is the intention of that road to make Colton the southwestern headquarters for their system of roads.

On Tuesday morning the first car-load of lumber for the new freight platforms, transfer depot, etc., for the California Southern road arrived in Colton, and on Tuesday night three more car-loads of lumber, making about 50,000 feet in one day, arrived. The lumber was unloaded inside the north Y-track. This company means business, and is now going to push things.

A NEW ROAD TO THE SEA.

Los Angeles and Santa Monica Railroad.

In the rapid growth of all branches of industry in Los Angeles county, the carrying trade is by no means backward. A new local railroad project has recently been announced. The petition of the Los Angeles and Santa Monica Railroad Company, signed by C. W. Mead, President, and S. P. Rees, Secretary, and submitted to the City Council yesterday, asking for certain franchises, is noted with no little satisfaction. The following is the draft of ordinance submitted with the petition:

ORDINANCE No. —.

AN ORDINANCE GRANTING RIGHT of way to the Los Angeles and Santa Monica Railroad Company over and along Pico street and East Pico street, and certain portions of San Pedro street and Seventeenth street, and through the public lands of the City of Los Angeles immediately adjoining the westerly boundary of the "official bed" of the Los Angeles river.

The Mayor and Council of the City of Los Angeles do ordain as follows:

SECTION 1. That the right of way be and the same is hereby granted to the Los Angeles and Santa Monica Railroad Company, and its successors, over and along the following named public streets of said City of Los Angeles, and through the land now owned or claimed by said city of Los Angeles, for and during the full period of fifty years from and next ensuing after the date of the passage of this ordinance, for the purpose of laying down, maintaining and operating one line of steel railroad track, said track to be of standard gauge, with the necessary turnouts, switches and spurs, and of running cars thereon for the transportation of passengers and freight, over the line of said road, and of constructing and maintaining a telegraph line in connection with said road—that is to say: Commencing at a point on the westerly boundary of the City of Los Angeles, where the center line of Pico street intersects said westerly boundary, and running thence easterly along Pico street to East Pico street; thence easterly along East Pico street to San Pedro street; thence northerly along San Pedro street to seventh street; thence easterly along seventh street, to a point 25 feet distant from the westerly boundary of the "official bed" of the Los Angeles river; thence along and through a strip of land 50 feet in width, the center line of said strip being 25 feet distant from and parallel with the westerly boundary of the "official bed" of the Los Angeles river, northerly to First street, said route herein described being more fully delineated upon a plat of said railway, filed in the office of the Clerk of the Council of the City of Los Angeles by said grantee;

Provided, and upon conditions, that, in the construction of said road, the said grantee shall place the cross-ties of such road in such way that the top of the rails shall be flush with the street, and that the laying of the track shall conform in all cases where any part of said route has been graded according to an established grade, to such established grade, and in all other cases, as near as practicable to the natural grade and surface of the street, and whenever, at any time, any part of said streets shall be graded, or the grade thereof changed or altered, the bed of the road and the track thereof shall be changed and shifted by said grantee so as to conform therewith; and that whenever the said road shall cross any rain or water ditch used for irrigation within said city, good and proper culverts shall be constructed, so as not to obstruct or impede in the slightest degree the flow of water therein; and that whenever, at any time, the said route shall intersect any street now or hereafter to be opened, or shall pass in front of any such street forming a junction with the streets herein named, the grantee shall construct and maintain good, proper and substantial crossings the whole distance across the street thereof;

Provided further, and upon the conditions, and it is understood that the city reserves the right to grade, sewer, pave, macadamize, improve, alter or repair any and all parts of said route and of said streets, and to lay down pipes therein for water, gas and other purposes, and to construct sewers and drains in and along the same, and at any and all times to use, manage and control the said streets as public streets to the same extent and with the same power whenever deemed necessary, as if this franchise had not been granted.

Provided further, and upon the condition, and it is understood that in the construction and maintenance of the telegraph line for which a right of way is hereby granted, the grantee shall comply with all the ordinances now in force, or which may be enacted by the City of Los Angeles.

SEC. 2. The above rights and privileges are granted upon condition that said grantee, or its successors, shall construct its road-bed on the line aforesaid within twelve months from and after the date of the taking effect of this ordinance, or, if when constructed, said grantee shall at any time abandon or relinquish any portion of said railroad so constructed and said line, then the rights hereby granted shall cease and determine and be void as to that part of said line not so constructed within the time above mentioned, or abandoned and relinquished as aforesaid, and the lands embraced and occupied by said railroad, and the right of way hereby granted shall revert to and become invested in from 9 to 5. Said to-day, part or parts of said line not so constructed within the time above mentioned, or abandoned and relinquished as aforesaid; and nothing herein contained shall be construed in any manner as giving to said grantee exclusive use of any of the streets aforesaid.

SEC. 3. The Clerk of the Council shall certify to the passage of this ordinance, and shall cause the same to be published once in the Los Angeles Daily Herald, and thereupon and thereafter it shall take effect and be in force.

From all that can be learned, this corporation is in earnest, and the assurances are given that work will begin at once on this new road, which will be several miles shorter than the S. P. line to the same point. The purpose is to build a double-track road, and run trains every few hours. Station houses will be erected every two miles or thereabouts, and it is within the probabilities of the future to see a line of avenues of suburban residences extending from Los Angeles to the sea. The company has also selected ample depot grounds at Santa Monica and in this city, and the indications are that it will meet with hearty public indorsements. Schemes for the improvement of Santa Monica and the building of docks, putting on lines of steamers to San Francisco, etc., etc., are under consideration and discussion, and in the fullness of time will be unfolded to the public.

SAN DIEGO HARBOR.

Petitioning Congress for its Improvement.

The following letters from Hons. H. H. Markham and C. H. Felton, promising to urge an appropriation for San Diego harbor have been received by the Chamber of Commerce of that city:

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES U. S., WASHINGTON, D.C., Dec. 21, 1885.

Mr. D. Dare, President of the Chamber of Commerce, San Diego, Cal.:—DEAR SIR: Your letter, containing the petition of the City Council, etc., respecting the improvement of your harbor, has been received, and I take great pleasure in saying that I will, as soon as the Committee on Rivers and Harbors have been appointed, present to that body your petition and urge them to make an appropriation. I had already written to Mr. Green, asking if there was not something of the kind necessary for your people. I can assure you that I will do all I can to obtain the appropriation asked for. Very truly yours, H. H. MARKHAM.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES, U. S., WASHINGTON, D.C., Dec. 22, '85.

D. Dare, Esq., President Chamber of Commerce, San Diego, Cal.—DEAR SIR: I am in receipt of the memorial of the city government and Chamber of Commerce of San Diego, Cal., in reference to an appropriation for the improvement of its "harbor," also official map of this harbor by the United States Coast Survey. I will present this matter in person to the Committee on Commerce of the House, and urge upon them the necessity of making the appropriation.

Yours very respectfully,
C. H. FELTON.

BANNING COLONY.

LOCATION:

Banning, San Bernardino County California.

Line of Southern Pacific Railroad, miles directly East of Los Angeles Railroad running directly through center of tract.

ALTITUDE:

2500 feet above sea level.

WATER:

Absolutely pure, clear and soft, and abundance of it.

ATMOSPHERE:

As near perfect as can be found on the globe.

SOIL.

Rich, deep and adapted to the production of the peach, apricot, pear, apple, nectarine, plum, prune, raspberry, blackberry, strawberry, gooseberry, cherry, and the entire grape family, both raisin and wine.

Depot, express and postoffices, store, meat market, good school, fine Union church and the best country hotel on the Pacific coast.

The above are some of the many advantages this colony possesses, and the managers are all reliable business men, and now offer land to the Eastern people and actual settlers, and to those who come to California seeking homes, as well as to those already in the State. We say come and examine land and water, and we will guarantee satisfaction. Stop at the Depot House and ask for the manager of the Banning Land Company. For terms, etc., address,

The Most Wonderful Automatic Musical Instrument Ever Produced.

Which far surpasses anything of the kind ever placed before the public. The Celestina Self-playing Reed Organ will play anything ever written, mechanically. Without any knowledge of music to execute on an ordinary organ an amateur with the hands as well as a novice can, at his feet play the most difficult and the Celestina is a wonderful little instrument and can be played by a child as well as a grown person. Would make a fine Christmas or New Year's present.

IN THE SUPERIOR COURT

Of the State of California, in and for the County of Los Angeles.

The Johnstown Bank, a corporation,
Plaintiff,
vs.
Kenyon Cox, Eliza Adelaide Cox and Nathan Litauer, Defendants.

Action brought in the Superior Court of the State of California, in and for the County of Los Angeles, and the complaint filed in the county of Los Angeles, in the office of the clerk of said Superior Court.

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF CALIFORNIA send greeting to Kenyon Cox, Eliza Adelaide Cox and Nathan Litauer, Defendants.

You are hereby required to appear in an action brought against you by the above-named plaintiff in the Superior Court of the State of California, in and for the County of Los Angeles, and to answer the complaint filed therein, within ten days (exclusive of the day of service) after the service on you of this summons—if served within this county, or if served elsewhere, within thirty days—or judgment by default will be taken against you according to the prayer of said complaint.

The said complaint is brought to obtain a decree of this Court for the foreclosure of a mortgage described in the said complaint and executed by the said Kenyon Cox and Eliza Adelaide Cox on the 15th day of March, A. D. 1884, to secure the payment of three certain promissory notes made by Nicolls Company to the plaintiff, on the same day, for $6000 each, described in the complaint herein, and all of which have become and are now due and payable with interest thereon at six per cent. per annum from maturity; except that there was paid and indorsed on each of said notes the sum of $960, on May 16, 1885, and the sum of $450, on June 16, 1885, and payments aggregating the sum of $2250,—that the premises, conveyed by said mortgage may be sold, and the proceeds applied to the payment of the balance due on said notes, with interest thereon at the rate of six per cent. per annum, and of $250 Attorney's fees for foreclosing said mortgage, and costs of suit; and also that the defendants and all persons claiming from, through or under them or either of them may be barred and foreclosed of all right, title, claim, lien, equity of redemption and interest in and to said mortgaged premises, and for other and further relief. Reference is had to complaint for particulars.

And you are hereby notified that if you fail to appear and answer the said complaint as above required, the said plaintiff will apply to the Court for the relief demanded in the said complaint.

[SEAL.] Witness my hand and Seal of the Superior Court, of the State of California, in and for the County of Los Angeles, this 4th day of January, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and eighty-six.

CHOICE GRAPE LANDS.

In addition to the important agricultural sections at Alpine to be sold at the Vienna Theatre, Jan. 12, John C. Bell, the auctioneer, has been instructed to offer at the same great sale the choice grape land section known as Section 1, T. 8 N., R. 13 W. It lies close to Alpine Station, has a good well sunk upon it, full of excellent water. Part of the land has been plowed up, and the test made of the quality of the soil can be seen. Having been analyzed by prominent chemists, the land of this section has been pronounced the finest soil for grapes in the county. On it, during 1885, have been dried many tons of grapes belonging to vineyardists of Los Angeles. It is the most picturesque section in Los Angeles county, just below it and adjoining it is a section very inferior in quality, which has been sold at the rate of $30 an acre to a number of German settlers, who are already building their homes.

The water on this section is only 15 feet from the surface. The section is fitted especially for a township also, and would readily sell in small lots. Altogether this is one of the greatest prizes offered in this section of the country for a long time.

Run up to Alpine Station, only three hours north of Los Angeles, on the S. P. R. R., and it is before the sale.

COUNCIL.

What Was Done by the Fathers Yesterday.

THREE HOURS AND A HALF OF WORK.

More Street Railroad Business—An Unapproved Bond—Buena Vista Street Will Not be Narrowed—Routine Matters, Etc.

Council was called to order on the stroke of 2, yesterday, President Sinsabaugh in the chair, and present also Councilmen Jones, Goss, Velsir, Willard, Santee, Brown, Perry, Breed, Frankenfield, Shearin, and Stearns.

Minutes read and approved.

The Mayor returned, without his approval, the official bond of Geo. H. Pike, as Superintendent of Streets. There had been a clerical error in it, so that the bondsmen said "we bind ourselves, our hires, [instead of heirs] executors," etc. This called out a humorous message suggesting the proper change. Mr. Pike was requested to file a corrected bond.

Abbott Kinney was given the floor to speak on pressing business. It transpired from the opening of his remarks that he desired to deliver an exhaustive oration on the best way to expend the $245,000 bonds. President Sinsabaugh mildly but firmly suggested that Mr. Kinney meet Council at some time when there is not so much business. On Mr. Goss's motion, next Tuesday at 1 o'clock was fixed.

Council at some time when there is not so much business. On Mr. Goss's motion, next Tuesday at 1 o'clock was fixed.

Drs. Widney and Nadeau, of the Medical School of the University of Southern California, stated that the free dispensary opened by the school July 1st last is treating an average of fifteen poor patients daily, the excuses being much by assessment on the faculty. They asked an appropriation of $25 per month to cover the bare expense of drugs. Mr. Velsir moved to refer to Board of Health. Mr. Perry amended to grant the request for $25 per month. Mr. Velsir's motion lost. Messrs. Breed, Goss, Jones, Kuhrts, Perry, Santee, Willard, Sinsabaugh voting no. Finally referred to City Attorney.

REPORTS OF CITY OFFICERS.

Superintendent of Streets with pay-roll of $279; Janjero, with pay-roll of $12.50; Auditor on condition of funds; Treasurer for December; Health Officer with expense account of $29.25; Committee on Finance; Health Officer on deaths for December, 21 males, 17 females; births, 15 males, 13 females. Also, calling attention to puddles of stagnant water, especially that at the corner of Courthouse and Hope streets, which the owner of the lot, Mr. Davis, positively refuses to fill. Mr. Davis was heard for twenty minutes. He alleged that the street has not been graded properly by J. Y. York, Treasurer of Charter, now dead at all. Referred to Board of Public Works.

Clerk presented lease from M. Teed to city for Spring and Ladder house, Aliso street. Approved and ordered signed.

Also contract and bond of J. D. Lynch for publishing city annual reports; to be completed February 20th. Approved and ordered signed.

City Attorney presented a resolution requesting the Supreme Court to give a speedy decision in the Guerrero tent highlicense case. Unanimously adopted.

President Sinsabaugh stated that, under the provisions of the paid fire department ordinance, Council is to elect a Fire Commissioner—a member of Council—to act with the Mayor and President of the Council as a Board of Fire Commissioners. Mr. Brown moved to proceed to election by ballot. Mr. Willard nominated J. Kuhrts and Mr. Velsir nominated Mr. Holbrook, who declined in favor of Mr. Kuhrts. The vote of Council was cast Mr. Kuhrts by the clerk, and Mr. Kuhrts was declared elected.

Mr. Stearns wished to bring up some more outside orators ahead of the order of business. Mr. Goss moved that all these matters come in in their regular order. No action. The petitions, which will be found in their proper place, were read and referred to Board of Public works.

Deferred resolution establishing grade of Philadelphia street from Bellevue avenue to Virgin street. Adopted and ordered published.

Petition of J. C. KAYE, City Treasurer, for assistance, referred to committee of the whole; taken up. Mr. Frankenfield took the chair. Mr. Stearns moved Treasurer be allowed to choose an assistant at $75 per month. Mr. Willard thought Mr. Kaye knew what the office was before he took it, and should worry along on the salary.

Motion lost. Motion amended to make the assistant's salary $50.

The committee of the whole rose and reported to Council its recommendation that City Treasurer be allowed to choose an assistant at $50 per month, subject to pleasure of Council. Motion to adopt carried, Messrs. Brown, Perry and Willard voting no.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES.

On GAS, in view of apparent general feeling that the electric light now furnished the city is much less in volume proportionately than at first, recommended that tests of lights be established at the city's expense till after an investigation is had. Adopted.

On FINANCE, recommending:

First—To file certain reports of city officers. So ordered.

Second—To grant petition of A. McCartney for return of overpaid taxes. So ordered.

Third—To grant petition of S. Strohm for return of overpaid taxes on certificates 211 and 285; and to reject on certificate 83. So ordered.

Fourth—That committee will strictly enforce the rule requiring all bills to be properly certified, especially bills for supplies, which must be accompanied by the order of a member of the Committee on Supplies, or of chairman of appropriate committee. Adopted, and ordered published.

Fifth—Recommending that warrants be drawn for the various pay-rolls and bills. So ordered.

On Lands, recommending the following petitions to lease lands:

First—Of L. M. Sifford at $10 per year. So ordered.

Second—Of T. C. Marks at $10 per year. So ordered.

Third—Of A. Hoffman at $5 yearly. So ordered.

Fourth—Of John Guthrie at $10 yearly. So ordered.

Fifth—Of L. Dachilla at $1 per acre. So ordered.

Sixth—Of Alfred Solano at $1 per acre. So ordered.

Seventh—Of Wm. Giudici at $1.50 per acre. So ordered, and City Attorney instructed to execute all the foregoing leases.

On Sewers with pay-roll of $11.25 Committee to Finance.

The following bids for street sprinkling were read: D. F. Donegan, at $3.60 per day for each team and cart; the only other bid from him was read at $3.80; E. E. Burlingame, $4.25 for ten hours; W. B. Lewis, $3.60 for the ten-hour system. Referred to Board of Health.

Bid of Peter Keenan on 400-foot Pico street flume, thirty-one cents per foot. Committee to Finance.

BOARD OF PUBLIC WORKS.

Recommended first on veto of Mayor on narrowing Buena Vista street. Committee finds in book 1, p. 466, miscellaneous records, and map No. 3, adopted by ordinance approved November 17, 1868, that Eternity street, now Buena Vista from Rock to Short (now Bellevue avenue) is given 80 feet width; recommends that it remain as dedicated. A protest of J. Bernard and twenty four others against proposed narrowing was read. Mr. Breed moved that the report be adopted and the Mayor's veto sustained. Judge Wills said the protesters are people not resident in the section of Buena Vista street affected. Mr. Breed's motion carried, Messrs. Brown, Khuris, Perry and Sinsabaugh voting no.

Second—One week more on portion of Mayor's message as to improvement of streets, width of tires, etc. Granted.

Third—To publish notice of intention to establish grade Union avenue. Adopted and ordered published.

Fourth—Same as to New High street from Temple to Franklin. Adopted and ordered published.

Fifth—Resolution establishing grade of Beacon street from Seventh to Ninth. Adopted and ordered published.

Sixth—To open Miller avenue and its extension, from St. Louis street to west line lot 2, block 73, Hancock survey. Adopted and ordered published.

Seventh—To grant petition of A. McCartney for return of overpaid taxes on certificates 211 and 285; and to reject on certificate 83. So ordered.

Fourth—That committee will strictly enforce the rule requiring all bills to be properly certified, especially bills for supplies, which must be accompanied by the order of a member of the Committee on Supplies, or of chairman of appropriate committee. Adopted, and ordered published.

Fifth—Recommending that warrants be drawn for the various pay-rolls and bills. So ordered.
